

Invitation to participate in research for Hepatitis Australia

Hepatitis Australia is undertaking independent research to understand the effectiveness of public health communications relating to diagnosis and treatment of Hepatitis C.

We would very much value your participation in the research.

We have commissioned Talbot Mills Research to conduct the project. The research will involve an online text group discussion responding to prompts, taking approximately an hour of your time over the course of 3 days. This will be conducted in early August.

As a thank you for taking part in the research, you will be provided with a $50 gift card upon your completion of the research.

Please be assured that confidentiality in this research is guaranteed as we believe it is critical that you can express your views freely and fully. Talbot Mills Research will only report aggregate data to Hepatitis Australia and no individual's response will be reported back to us without the respondent's express permission.

To express your interest, please email Grace Hogan, Communications and Partnerships Manager, Hepatitis Australia at grace@hepatitisaustralia.com and provide your name and contact number.

You can also reach out to Grace on 0493 994 523 if you would like to discuss.

If you express interest in participating your details (email and phone number) will be passed along to Talbot Mills Research. We are seeking approximately 15-20 participants in total so if we have significantly more interest the selection of participants will be randomised.

About Hepatitis Australia

Hepatitis Australia, is the national peak community organisation to progress national action on issues of importance to people affected by hepatitis B and hepatitis C. Our members are the eight state and territory hepatitis organisations.